RE: Roca Honda DEIS comment

Please note that the PDF version of the Center's Roca Honda DEIS comment letter, previously sent today, contained formatting errors that caused attachments to appear in the middle of the letter proper. The attached PDF corrects those errors and contains all attachments referenced in the letter. Therefore, this PDF contains the Center's entire submission regarding the DEIS. I apologize for the inconvenience.

Subject: Roca Honda DEIS comment

Please find attached to this message and pasted below a letter from the Center for Biological Diversity commenting on the Draft Environmental Impact Statement for the Roca Honda Mine Project. The PDF attachments to this message contain "(Figure 1)" and all materials referenced in the comment letter as "attached for convenience," except one, which will be included with another message to follow this one. Please include them in the project record.

Thank you.
