Comments:

hunting on national lands is entirely within the purview of being shut down by national federal agency overseeing that national land owned by 325 million people. it is not a state land that is subject to state rules. stop lying to the us public. you are indulging in criminal activity in lying like this to the american people. wildlife watchers are the biggest group to use this land in this nation. hunting is diminishing every year for the last 25 years. they represent less than 1% of the national population in 2014 and yet they tie up everybody else in the 99% from using our land safely. ban hunting. ban prescribed burns. ban logging. ban trapping. ban new roads. shut down some present roads. ban gas drilling. this agency is attempting to take away the voices of the american people and shut them up from having an opinion on their own land, the land they pay and paid taxes to own. this agency's employees are dangerous in that attempt to shut up the voice of the american people, telling them what they can and cannot comment on. how dare you paid workers shut up the voices of the american people? this is 260,000 acres. we want the 99% to be able to use it safely. this comment is for the public record please receipt. jean public
