Comments:

I believe the most endangered/threatened species listed in the DFPA appear to be within the Wando/Huger area. What is being done to help these species survive and recover? The plan doesn't lay out clear expectations and goals specifically for the gopher frog and the flatwoods salamanders (both species). Is there a plan to burn those sections that have not been burned in over 20 years?

There are some mentions of relocating these species to other isolated wetlands that may be suitable habitat....is that your plan? Is there going to be an experimental phase? What is being done to help maintain the genetic diversity of these threatened and endangered species?
