Hello,

I'm writing in regard to The Roadless Coal Exception #4670.

urge you NOT to allow this exception. This exploration will upset fragile lands. Saying that this is just an "exploration" will pave the way towards actual mining in the area. As one who has worked in an open pit coal mine in Montana I have seen first hand what environmental destruction they cause. With climate change rapidly speeding up we should not be digging and burning more coal. These are our public lands and heritage and not the open to private exploitation.

Sincerely,

Alec Drummond
