Comments:

As a former Colorado resident I am very opposed to reinstating the loophole that would allow coal exploration and mining in the Colorado roadless area. This is a losing proposition that would destroy not only the wilderness area but also the environment. Coal MUST be left in the ground now in order to save our planet. What are you thinking? This is a terrible idea and makes me wonder who in the Forest Service has connections to the coal industry. Keep Colorado wilderness wild and our planet viable.
