Comments:

I live in Grand Junction Colorado where one proposed coal mine has been abandoned, in the summer of 2014, because of the price of coal was so low it made the mine economically unworkable. The price of coal has gone down even further. There us good possibility that Arch Coal will back out of this coal mine based on the price of coal. Don't Let Arch coal go in and create an environmental disaster knowing they will have to back out in the next year or so. Also the world does not need more CO2 from the burning of coal to go into our atmosphere. Have you heard of Global Warming and how it is a major problem? Don't add it to by allowing this coal mine.
