Comments:

By now, the whole world is coming to grasp climate change. It is a very real concern and it is approaching fast. If we want our children and generations after them to survive and live a life worth having on this planet we need to stand up to big corporations like Arch Coal. If we don't start acting IMMEDIATELY and saying no to useless, harmful forms of energy, there will be no life to sustain on Earth anymore. Take a second to realize that money, in its purest form, is just a piece of paper, and what really matters are the people around you and the precious gift of life itself.
