Comments:

We are in strong opposition to the closing of all off road trails to vehicle travel except for 33 miles in the Funny and Moon Rocks. It makes no sense to close the forest to everyone because a few people act irresponsibly. If there ever was an example of throwing the baby out with the bathwater, this is it!

Limiting vehicle travel discriminates against the elderly and disabled who cannot then access the forest. It also discriminates against the underprivileged who cannot afford to feed and house horses to travel into the forest and enjoy the PUBLIC'S land. The forest belongs to the citizens of the USA, not forest service employees exclusively.

We have been in the forest and seen the infrequent and minor disruptions that are the excuse you're using to keep us all out of the forest. This is a complete overreaction and totally unnecessary. Just because an environmental group sues, you cannot then decide to abridge the constitutional rights of all other Americans. Environmentalists sue like most people breathe. They should not be allowed to intimidate you into punishing the people who want to enjoy the forest.

When Teddy Roosevelt started the National Forest Service it was not intended to keep people out of the forest, but to maintain the forest for future generations to enjoy. He would be horrified to see what you've all become!
