Comments:

I am an avid trail user in the SW Colorado area and I object to closing any more trails, especially in the Rico/Dolores area. I am part of the Hiker, Hunter, Fisherman, Mtn Biker, Dirt Biker user group. Last Sunday July 10 2016 I was out on my Dirtbike riding Stoner Mesa, Eagles Peak, Priest, Calico and Johnny Bull and we passed 25 motorized, 4 bicycle and no one else on the trail. That is what I usually see. The largest user group on those trails is motorized. They clear the majority of the trees and are the main users of the trails. You cannot close the trails to your largest user group. That's just un-American. What happened the the Forest Service mantra of "Land of the people, for the people". There are so few trails in the area that are open to motorized, you have closed enough. Keep these open for the user group that actually uses them. There are plenty of areas already closed to motorized but open to everyone else. I beg you, don't close any of these trails. They see such little use anyways. Thank you for your time and for reading this.
