Comments:

This is an addendum to my previously submitted comments.

As this is an addendum I will keep this very short. Having had additional time to think about and research I feel that the Forest Service must keep in mind the depositions of their own expert employees in the case of Backcountry Hunters and Anglers vs US Forest service, et al (April 2012). While I expect that the Forest Service employees in charge of this matter are familiar with the content of these sworn affidavits I will post links in case anybody would like to review them.
