Comments:

quiet use of trails in our national forests are being compromised by the onslaught of motorized use, which in its own right is a valid recreational use, but seems to overwhelm traditional values of listening to wildlife, the wind in the trees, and the refreshment that only sounds of nature can bring. the two uses must co-exist, but in balance. the trails in question have values appropriate to quiet use, and so I heartily endorse alternative E for seasonal trail closures restricting motorized use from July 1 to September 8 to protect the experience of quiet users.

thank you, tony littlejohn
