I support the compromise plan which allows some increase in logging (but not nearly as much as the Forest Service proposes), and increases the amount of wilderness designation. I have no objection to the mountain biking trails included in the compromise. I am strongly opposed to the logging of any old growth forests. I resent the position of the Forest Service that the way to manage a forest is to cut much of it down. National Forests exist for the benefit of all citizens, not just to enrich timber interests.
