Rico West Dolores Roads and Trails Project

I support the management alternative that limits motorized use of these trails. One "pack" of 4 wheelers can do more damage than a whole season's worth of hikers. I have hiked in many areas that share use with motorheads and have found them generally disrespectful of other users and unaware of the damage they are causing. If it was up to me I would limit them to a few lower elevations roads and trails that would become sacrifice zones where they can have their fun and drive away all the wildlife and wreck the place. Maybe they could be responsible for repairing the damage they do as well.
