Comments:

I was hiking Bear Creek trail today and was overtaken by a couple of dirt bikers. While they were nice enough, it was so disturbing to be on a quiet trail next to a creek and then to have to breath the exhaust from and listen to the noise created by motorized traffic. Not to mention that the trail goes through damp places that are really impacted by bikes. (see example in photos). Please these meadows and small tributaries are too fragile for that kind of usage. And, selfishly, I don't hike mountain trails to have to deal with motorized traffic. Please make Bear Creek a quiet trail. Many thanks for the opportunity to comment!
