Greetings,

Thank you for allowing the public to comment on the issue of modifications to the roadless area rule changes. I would like you to preserve all existing roadless areas as they are, and add as many more as possible. As our population grows and expands ever further into the wilderness there will come a time where there is nothing left to preserve except for the areas that our former lawmakers had the good will to protect. Let us celebrate and revere the few precious areas of our country that are not bisected with roads and built up to the very boundary. Roadless areas were meant to keep out the easy access of people, noise, garbage, and development that coincide with them everywhere else on earth. If timber companies want logs, have them buy up private land and grow trees. Everyone would benefit from that. Keep it wild and keep it roadless.

Thank you,

Jesse
