Comments:

Under needs and purpose, I find that the needs are really just desires. The purposes are just justification for the desires. The desires are to take the first bite out of the TongasS National Forest. The likelihood that another appeal will be forth coming and then another until the Tongass is gone as an roadless wonderland.

The status of the 2001 Roadless Rule remains in effect in Alaska and has under gone extensive adjudication that restored this policy. I am in favor of accepting this ruling to be final and applied to the Tongass National Forest.
