Comments:

Roadless areas in the Tongass are vital to salmon and wildlife. These salmon provide far more to the economy of Southeast Alaska via tourism and commercial fishing than does logging. Have we not learned our lesson??? Washington and Southern British Columbia's wild salmon are in crisis from logging and development. The bottom line is that in order to maintain what we have, we have to leave it alone. It is the way nature intended it to be. It took 200 years to wipe out Atlantic Salmon on the East Coast we are doing it in less than 100 years on the West Coast!
