Comments:

I do not support closing additional lands to snowmobiling. As a snowmobiler, I enjoy the land the same way other backcountry users do. Respectfully. And if I am prohibited from respectfully enjoying the land in Alaska, then I am very unlikely to bring my family and friends to the area to recreate again, regardless of the season. We all love being in the mountains - being out there with friends, getting exercise, and enjoying the scenery is an incredibly important part of understanding, respecting and appreciating the forests. The more closures that are implemented, the less likely future generations are to learn good stewardship of our lands. Please do not close any additional lands to snowmobiling.
