Comments:

Please give high wilderness consideration to Borah Peak, the North Slope Pioneers and the Northern Lemhis.

As a past US Forest Service employee on the Challis and Mackay Ranger Districts, I am quite familiar with these areas. They provide peace and quiet, great recreation, solitude, wildlife watching, and places where people should leave little trace.

Places like these should be respected as part of the last great places in our country. Our public lands are under constant attack from the greedy and profit driven.

I want future generations to be able to visit places where they can tune-out of the human-made world and tune-in to nature.

Thanks for all you do,
Kim Skyelander
