Comments:

I have traveled across the continental U.S. from western Maryland to Arco, ID several times to fly my hang glider at the King Mountain flying site. It's a unique and special place that holds great import to the flying community and it would be shame if the new Wilderness designation in the area prevented us from using this wonderful site.

Please consider exempting this area from the Wilderness designation and preserve this site which has a long history of flying activities and brings economic benefits to the surrounding communities.
