Hi US Forest Service,

I understand how you want to protect this very beautiful, special section of the country. I've flown hang gliders at King Mountain and it is one of the very best sites for paragliding and hang gliding in the country.

If you can find a way to incorporate hang gliding and paragliding into your plan it would go a long way toward giving pilots special flights and lifelong memories. King Mountain attracts pilots from all over the world.

There isn't any reason that paragliding should be banned, prohibited or made illegal. There is not a more low impact sport in the wilderness today.

Thanks,

Larry Tudor
