Comments:

I wholly support conservation efforts to protect our planet.

The history of mankind is one of pillage and destruction.

We are now faced with the cumulative effect of those actions.

My heart breaks when I read of climate change resulting in severe weather, poor people suffering the consequences, extinction of species, dwindling areas of pristine nature, expansion of business by the current USA government, it is all irresponsible.

Please, please do what you can to combat all this and reverse course.

It's what the people want but it takes time for the government to reverse course and do some good for all of us.
