Comments:

I understand the pressure on Alaskan legislators to create jobs for its citizens. I also understand the the current President's administration has created an opportunity for logging companies to seek a relaxation of rules and regulations that previously protected old growth forests. I'm just an individual that has studied the biology of old growth forests and the implications of clear-cutting or even just the selective harvesting of old-growth forests and I know that allowing the Prince of Wales Island Timber Sale to proceed is a short-sighted and ignorant decision that will detrimentally affect generations of future Alaskans and all Americans. The Landscape Level Analysis is deficient because it fails to disclose sit-specific details of where cutting will occur and roads will be built. Please, please reconsider and use the resources to build, not destroy this sacred ecosystem.
