Comments:

When I first heard about the proposal to further restrict motor vehicle access in these public lands, I became very disappointed. Some of my most cherished memories I have of my dad and grandpa are of our trips out west to ride snowmobiles. I looked forward to every trip for months ahead of time and am excited to possibly share those same types of memories with my children. The sadness I have is due to the ever-growing worry that the areas that I was able to ride with my dad and grandpa will no longer be rideable. The memories and nostalgia aside, I attribute many of my learned morals, skills, and life lessons to these trips, and without these, I would not be the man I am today. Please take my opposition to these already too excessive motor vehicle restrictions when considering on the decision. Further, I hope that it is understood that I am not alone in my experiences and repealing some of the restrictions already in place should be considered to further allow others to share similar experiences to mine.
