Comments:

The Tongass is a truly special and unique place, which should be off-limits to logging and other industrial activities. I am opposed to any efforts to repeal the Roadless Rule. The Forest is not only a pristine and dynamic ecosystem, but it is the cultural heritage of many of our countrys first peoples. Moreover, it remains one of the last temperate rain forests in the world, and one of Americas precious - and endangered - wilderness areas. I implore you to think of the future of our country, its varied ecosystems, the ethic of conservation, the legacy of our forebears, and the inheritance we owe our children. Keep the roadless rule intact.
