Comments:

It is shocking to me that such a consideration about this invasion of the wilderness is even being considered. I lived up in the Yukon for 8 years and this territory is sacred and should be treated as such. We cannot open up this public land for invasion of the public and big industry that will end up destroying this habitat for precious and worthy wildlife. We do not need to open this land up for big money industry. We must treat this area as precious and valuable in leaving it as it is. We cannot open this land up; it only belongs to the animals and trees which seem to be disappearing all the more with this current administration who has no regard for nature in any form. I am 100% opposed to any invasion of this northern territory in any way.
