I may live in Arizona, but what happens in another state (or even another country) affects the entire world. This is science. We know this. Please leave the Tongass National Forest the way it is. Please don't open it up to logging and new roads. Of course forests need to be thinned and managed, but that's what natural and prescribed burns are for. We don't need to turn every wilderness into a profit source. Thank you for your consideration.
