Comments:

The state of Alaska is warming at twice the rate of the rest of the globe; climate change will decimate the Alaskan economy as well as the natural resources of the state. The Tongass needs to be left alone (Alternative 1, no change). The forest is a carbon sink, and needs to be kept intact. This will also allow the United States to hold other countries to a high protection standard for carbon sequestering forests. This is the only chance to save what we know today as Alaska.
