Comments:

We have family living in the Tongass. We have only visited the area 3 times and fell in love with it at first sight. We understood, right away, the importance of the preservation of this vast area; for the habitat, for the natural environment, the people, humanity. If the plans for roads and commercial drillings take place, ancient trees will be removed and they can never be replaced. There are laws to protect this national treasure. It is unconscionable and wrong to suddenly allow destruction and greed to consume what could never be replaced. Thank you for listening and doing the right thing despite pressures from people in high places. Listen to the people of the Tongass!
