I oppose any logging or development in the region as it should be left for environmental carbon reduction. Forests and indeed all undeveloped areas are proven to absorb carbon and lower our global temperatures, providing rain and pollutant absorption globally. All life supports other life and we are losing species through our global deforestation and deserts are increasing consequently! In our area our beloved forest is being swallowed up with row housing and development. What place do you know of that doesn't get developed so that you can't recognize it after 20 years or earlier? So, leave it alone please and allow global wildlife corridors for the saving of this beautiful gem God gave us!
