Please desist

Eliminating the roadless rule will put money in a few pockets, and damage the future of the planet. Please think of our and your children, grandchildren, and great grandchildren before you decimate the most significant old growth forest remaining in our nation. We need these trees to stay where they are! There is much more to life than money. I lived in Alaska for years, and saw what happened when the Native tribes clear cut their lands for short term gain. The logging industry should focus on replanting and cutting from replanted lands. We should have learned this lesson by now. Nature can no longer heal itself, given how many people there are now in this country.

I know I am not articulate, but this is still so important. PLEASE reverse course.
