I do not support president trumps proposal to eliminate the last strong hold of the critically endangered Sasquatches, commonly known as Big Foot.

Inventoried roadless areas are the critical link to keeping Sasquatchs hidden and protected from man kind. These areas are imperative for mating and rearing of young. Since female Sasquatch only bear one or two off spring in their life time we need to ensure they have the correct and ample habitat components.

Additionally, if these areas are opened up, the human population will seek and destroy our missing link brotheren.

I did not read anything in the DEIS about consultation with Alaska Native Tribes concerning the heritage and traditional impacts of decimating Sasquatch population.

I suggest that trump be required to match the misused federal funds used for this project to fund Sasquatch monitoring and release the government withheld documentation on where they are disposing of the Sasquatch remains. I had sent in FOIA requests for this material in the Pacific Northwest and continue to get a no records response.

As an alternative I suggest that the forest service develope an alternative that incorporates the natural succession of Sasquatch without mans influence.
