

Date submitted (Alaskan Standard Time): 12/17/2019 12:00:00 AM

First name: Charlie

Last name: Herrington

Organization:

Title:

Comments:

Comment

Not only does subsidized logging in remote southeast Alaska not make sense to taxpayers from a financial standpoint, but from an physical one, the wild landscape would be irreparably damaged, forever.

This whole process is lame. Take a moderate approach.

Charlie Herrington

[Position]