Comments:

Absolutely no action should be taken here. Old growth forests are worth infinitely more than the resources you can extract from them. These are non renewable and running out; short term gain is not worth the long term cost, and the value of untouched old growth is too important and irreplaceable to possibly put into words. Please protect this-I want to have a planet for me and my family and my friends as we grow up, and it is your job, in your hands, to keep this essential piece safe. Please do that job.
