U.S. Forest Service Alaska Roadless Rule Committee:

The Roadless Rule has been instrumental in conserving the Chugach and Tongass National Forest and in supporting their associated fish and wildlife-based industries for more than 20 years. Please uphold the Rule's protections for important fish and wildlife areas, including the Tongass 77, by selecting the 'no action' alternative. Roadless areas are an important source of food, jobs, and income through commercial, subsistence, and recreational fishing. Salmon are part of Alaska's culture and we must protect them and their spawning streams. Please do not roll back roadless area protections for habitat that our irreplaceable fish and wildlife populations need to survive.

I can't afford to enjoy Alaska very often but what I really can't afford is the loss of the pristine roadless habitat for my children and grandchildren to enjoy, we need to do something now to protect our earth we only get One and this roadless rule is a great start please consider your children's future world and all of the priceless flora and fauna that make Alaska what it is and forever can be.

Sincerely,

Jon Fraughton
