To Whom it May Concern:

I am sure you have received a lot of scientific data both supporting and opposing the Roadless Rule in Alaska. I think that everyone can find data to support their opinion regardless of what it is.

Here are my thoughts on the Roadless Rule in Alaska. I support Alternative 1.

-Many people want to bring back the glory days of logging, but repealing the rule won't bring back the timber industry.

-Sonny Perdue already picked the preferred alternative so the process is a moot point. He hasn't even considered the comments are still forthcoming.

-Mr. Perdue is a pawn for President Trump, who doesn't know anything about natural resources management. Just because Trump supports alternative #6 doesn't make it right. In fact, it probably makes it wrong.

-Why is Governor Dunleavy involved in the conservation? These are federal lands that the state has no jurisdiction over.

-I have not heard anyone discuss alternatives #2-5. There are probably some good compromises in these alternatives, but we are all polarized.

Therefore, I support Alternative 1.
