Please consider additional access to our forests as you plan management in North Georgia. There is a huge demand for more public access via designated motor vehicle access. The current ORV trails are over used and crammed into relatively small tracks of land. Motorized access trails can help more people hit their kids outside in a family friendly environment. Currently, most people have to utilize private riding areas which are crowded and dangerous. We need longer trails to keep the impact to a manageable level and there are many volunteers to help with trail maintenance. Please take a moment to review how West Virginia utilized the Hatfield McCoy trails to help small communities thrive near outdoor activities.
