I support all projects in the GWNF, and especially those around Tillman and Narrowback. Although I ride all over GWNF, Narrowback/Tillman is a great intermediate level course that brings many new riders out to the forest and the system as a whole brings people from all over the US. Last week I met riders from Rhode Island and North Carolina. As a centrally located trail, it would be a great addition to have access immediately from the Wolfe parking lot, as people now drive down to the dog graveyard and the entire area is eroding badly. Appreciate the forest service's willingness to work with SVBC as it is one of the main reasons I love VA.
