I have had a season pass at Targhee for 3 years now, and I hike all through the Jedediah Smith wilderness all summer. My kids are on the mountain biking team, and they love riding at Targhee. I am in favor of putting a quad to the top of Peaked mountain, but I oppose putting more lifts on the south side of the mountain. It would leave a lasting impact to have such huge encroachment that ski lifts and ski runs entail, ruining the wilderness that is visible from the top of battleship mountain table mountain even Grand Teton. just because the boundaries of the Jed Smith wilderness don't extend to that tiny section doesn't mean we should put permanent scars in that section.
