I am a second generation Idahoan, born and raised in North Idaho. The Stibnite Gold Project deeply concerns me on many accounts and I have a few questions and concerns regarding the capacity that Valley County has to accommodate such an endeavor.

Do you have a plan for recycling your community and industrial recyclables?

Where will you haul all your waste, hazardous or otherwise?

How did you calculate the emissions that this project will emit and does it include the many trips necessary up and down the road using heavy machinery to transport waste and other product into the local communities?

Do you have plans to use this as an opportunity to create excellent waste management systems for the surrounding counties, including a viable recycling program?

Have you conducted a full and complete analysis of the greenhouse gas emissions from the proposed mine?

I have many more concerns and I oppose this project.
