I recently discovered this idea of a mountain coaster in the Sandia mountains. This is about the most ridiculous idea I have ever heard. This would be horrible for the animal life in the mountains for many reasons. The noise itself would cause them fear, making them find new homes. Not to mention the trees that would need to be cut down, as if we need more trees taken from this earth. With more traffic into the mountains we would only be bringing more trash.. nothing good can come of this. I would be so ashamed if we did this to New Mexico's beautiful mountains.
